U.S. Emergency Management in the 21st Century

From Disaster to Catastrophe

Edited By Susan L. Cutter, Melanie Gall, Claire B. Rubin

Updated to include the latest research in the hazards and disasters field, U.S. Emergency Management in the 21st Century continues the tradition of giving readers access to exemplary case studies drawn from a wide variety of hazards as well as academic and applied fields. This edition features nine new chapters, highlighting transitions from the status quo to untested operational environments. Accessible and written by experts in emergency management research and practice, this book remains an indispensable textbook on disaster case studies, emergency management policy and practice.

New to the second edition:

- Discussion on COVID-19 pandemic and the lacking local capacity for preparedness.
- "Forgotten" (heatwaves and coldwaves) in Phoenix, AZ and Buffalo, N.Y.
- New challenges in hurricane preparedness and response with rapid intensification.
- Changing cycles of water volume in the west resulting in storage emergencies.
- Cascading hazards and out-of-sight water crises in the Southwest.
- Extreme precipitation resulting in flash flooding in Tennessee, New York City, Montana, and Vermont.
- Updated conclusion describing divergence between federal, state, and local emergency management concerns and priorities.
- A new co-editor, Melanie Gall, recognized for her teaching and scholarship on natural hazards and emergency management.
